Dr. McKinzie:

Everything in the MOU is a non-negotiable. The state's overall plan has other initiatives that may or may not be required of all districts (for example, all districts will have to implement the common core standards, if adopted, but not all districts have to apply for potential competitive grants that may be set up from the state's 50% of the award.)

Let me get back to you on the charter school questions.

Subject: Questions

It was my understanding from a meeting with the Commissioner and Chancellor last week that there were negotiable items and nonnegotiable items. From the information that we have received, I do not see any designation on any of the areas listed. Please clarify.

If a charter school does not wish to participate in parts of the district's plan, do they still receive funding? Who will determine the amount that each charter school receives if they do wish to fully participate?
