

Ed-Ventures: Focus on Accomplished Practices ABC's of Ed-Ventures and Orientation

This is an opportunity to meet face-to-face to receive first-hand assistance getting started in the ACE program. For some of the meetings we hope to include an opportunity to meet one or more of the online tutors who can provide specific information regarding the tasks that they assess. Take advantage of the knowledge to be shared by teachers who have been serving as online tutors since the beginning of this program. Information about which tutors will present will be provided prior to each meeting.

At each meeting we will discuss detailed specifics for navigating the Ed-Ventures website, timelines, other resources, etc. You are welcome to attend any and all of these sessions to talk about the program and to get answers to specific questions.

Please be sure to write down questions as they arise and bring them to the session.

Below is the schedule for 2011-2012. All of the sessions are at the Jim Miles Professional Development Center, 4:00 pm to 5:30 pm (if you cannot make it by this time, please still come as soon as you are able), in the Fern Conference Room of the Professional Development Department with Vivian Castelli as the lead facilitator.

We will keep you informed of which online tutors will be at each session.
