

Library Media Services Recruiting Volunteer Readers

The Library Media Services Department of the Polk Public Schools is recruiting males to be reading volunteers for students.

The Polk County program hopes to assign males to work with students at 32 schools throughout the county to help students with reading.

The target group for the reading volunteers will be with boys in the third, fifth, seventh and ninth grades although the program will be for all students.

“Research has shown that boys tend to fall behind in reading and this program will hopefully help them learn to love reading at an early age,” said Jacqueline Rose, senior coordinator of the school district’s library media services department.

There will be a meeting for potential volunteers in the Polk County program 7:30 a.m. – 8:30 a.m. on Friday, November 20th at the Jim Miles Professional Development Center - Live Oak Room - 5204 U.S. Highway 98 South, Lakeland. Call (863) 647-4714/ 647-4710 for further information on the Polk County volunteer reader program.

The goal of the program is for volunteers to read with students during their lunch break at least twice a month or more if they desire. Volunteers could also discuss an assigned book that both the volunteer and students have read.
