SAMPLE

See example (sample) below of a requested price adjustment for the contract extension period October 1, 2006 through September 30, 2007. Please note this is an example (sample) only and is in no way intended to forecast future inflation rates.

On July 29, 2006 the vendor submits a written request for a price adjustment increase for the contract period October 1, 2006 through September 30, 2007. In this example the vendor requests an adjustment equal to the annual percentage rate of inflation, as defined in the bid Special Terms and Conditions Section I., for the calendar year 2005. If approved, the annual percentage rate of inflation (rounded to one decimal place) for the calendar 2005, would be added to the existing unit prices. The adjusted rates would be effective for the contract period October 1, 2006 through September 30, 2007.

The screenshot shows the Bureau of Labor Statistics website interface. The main content area displays data for the Consumer Price Index - Urban Wage Earners and Clerical Workers for the year 2005. The data is presented in two tables: one for the index values and one for the 12-month percent change. A callout box with an arrow points to the 'Annual' value of 3.5 in the 12 Months Percent Change table.
