ATTACHMENT 1

This example pertains to bid pricing submitted for Category 1-16 only

See example (sample) below of a requested price adjustment for the contract extension period July 1, 2009 through June30, 2010. Please note this is an example (sample) only and is in no way intended to forecast future inflation rates.

On March 1, 2009 the vendor submits a written request for a price adjustment increase for the contract extension period July 1, 2009 through June 30, 2010. In this example the vendor requests an adjustment equal to the annual percentage rate of inflation (from the calendar year 2008), as defined in the bid Special Terms and Conditions Section H.. If approved, the annual percentage rate of inflation (rounded to one decimal place), would be added to the existing unit bid prices. The adjusted rates would be effective for the contract extension period July 1, 2009 through June 30, 2010.

Year	Jan	Feb	Mar	Apr	May	Jun	Jul	Aug	Sep	Oct	Nov	Dec	Annual	HALF1	HALF2
2007	1.8	2.2	2.7	2.5	2.8	2.7	2.3	1.8	2.8	3.7	4.6	4.3	2.9	2.4	3.3

A callout box with a black border and white background contains the following text: "Note: This Example shows the annual percentage rate for calendar year 2007. The Bureau of Labor Statistics DOES NOT forecast future inflation rates." An arrow points from the callout box to the "Annual" value of 2.9 in the table.
