Education for a Global Society

- What is ESOL?

English for Speakers of Other Languages (ESOL) is provided at every school, K-12. The objective of this program is to help students to develop English language proficiency in the areas of listening comprehension, speaking skills, reading comprehension and writing skills. The ESOL classroom consists of students from diverse language backgrounds who enter school at various levels of English proficiency. During the development of English language proficiency, students progress through the beginning, intermediate and advanced levels of language acquisition.

Instruction for English Language Learner (ELL) students must also address their social, academic and cognitive development. Comprehensible instruction must be provided in the grade level or content area classroom through ESOL strategies. These strategies include, but are not limited to, the modification of instructional techniques and assessment based on the students' levels of English language proficiency.
