

How To Help Your Child Succeed on Tests

Encourage your child to do their best, but do not put stress on him/her.

Make sure that your child gets plenty of sleep on the night before the test.

Ensure your child wakes up early to make sure that he/she arrives at school on time.

Give your child the chance to practice using the practice test platform.

FSA: <http://fsassessments.org/students-and-families/practice-tests/>
Pearson: <http://download.pearsonaccessnext.com/fl/fl-practicetest.html?links=true>

Ensure your child has good attendance at school.

Assist your child with homework and make sure they are completing all assignments.

Stay in communication with your child's teacher. Discuss any concerns about the test with the teacher or administration at the school.

Be sure that your child eats a healthy breakfast on the morning of the test.

Encourage your child to read as much as possible.

Keep track of your child's testing dates on a calendar so you and your child are aware of the dates ahead of time.