Think about how you can get involved!

Little Free Libraries

Little Free Libraries are little decorated waterproof boxes/containers with books inside. These LFLs have been placed in communities to promote literacy and the love of reading. The only rule is to bring a book and take a book. Help spread the love of reading throughout Polk County by building or sponsoring a Little Free Library in your community.

Do you need a LFL built by someone from Polk County Schools?

If you want a Little Free Library built by the students of Bartow High School or Polk County School students, please send a $150.00 money order or check to Polk County Schools, Library Media Services, 5204 U.S. Highway 98 South, Lakeland, FL 33813. This includes registration.

Or

Do you need the library that you built registered?

If you want Library Media Services to register your Little Free Library, please send to Polk County Library Media Services after you have completed the survey questions below. Print out the registration and send your check made out to Polk County Schools. The cost of registering a free library is $34.95 for one that you have built. Then mail to Library Media Services - Polk County Schools at 5204 U.S. Highway 98 South, Lakeland, FL 33813.

Have you built a Little Free Library?

You can register the library that you built yourself at <http://littlefreelibrary.org/registration-process/>. Please use Polk County School Librarians as your other name when you submit your registration form at this site. This will help us identify the Little Free Libraries in our area.

Or
